The 1984 Hawkette Volleyball season was successful in many respects. Squad members were sincere in their efforts to develop the high level of skill necessary, the intensity and pride in their undertaking, and the confidence that builds a strong program and fosters student interest.

"Pride, hard work, discipline, desire to improve, attitude, intensity, and fun are the little things that are vital to any successful athletic program."

This season, our accomplishments can be attributed to the leadership of our seniors. They excelled in all aspects of athletics and sportsmanship, setting an admirable example for their younger teammates to follow.
